OF SEVERAL DAYS

Suffered Sudden Relapse After Doctors Had Given Warning of End and Passed Away With Relatives at Bedside.

WAS GRIEF STRICKEN OVER EUROPEAN WAR

Issued Order Shortly Before He Died to Catholics All Over the * World to Pray for Peace.

ROME, Aug. 9.—Pope Pius X. died to-day. His Holiess, who had been sick for some days, suffered a relapse this morning and became unconscious at noon. At that time a priest had been sent for and the last sacraments of the church were administered.

Doctors in attendance were compelled to begin the administration of oxygen to keep him alive pending the summoning to the beside of the officials demanded by the rites of the Church to be present.

At 1.30 it was announced that the condition of His Hollness was desperate, that his fever was increasing and his general condition was becoming very much weaker. His sign ters were in constant attendance.

The physicians could do nothing and the Pope sank gradually until death came. The Pontiff's death was attributed to grief over the war.

When he heard that Germany had declared war on Russia and realized that the conflagration actually had been kindled he broke down. His Holiness swooned and was unconscious for several minutes. His physicians were called in and had to administer powerful restoratives.

the combatants-that he considered all of them his children. Finally he issued an appeal to every Catholic throughout the world to
